Dworetzky to handle business development at United American Bank

Steve Dworetzky has joined United American Bank in San Mateo as Senior Vice President of Business Development/Community Relations.

Dworetzky comes to United American Bank from First National Bank of Northern California in South San Francisco where he was Vice President and Regional Manager. He had been at First National for 10 years.

A graduate of Utah State University, he is a resident of South San Francisco. He also earned a certificate from the Pacific Coast Banking School in 1999.

Prior to that, he had been Assistant Vice President and Branch Manager at Wells Fargo Bank in South San Francisco, Assistant Vice President and Corporate Account Executive at Merrill Lynch in San Francisco and Senior Executive Branch Manager at Transamerica Financial in San Jose.

In the community, he is Chairman of the South San Francisco Conference Center Authority Board, is a Trustee of the San Mateo Elks Lodge and was a planning commissioner for the City of Belmont. He is currently the president-elect of the Board of Directors of the Boys & Girls Club of North San Mateo County.

At United American Bank, his responsibilities will include new business development, underwriting and portfolio management of commercial loans. He will report directly to John Schrup, President and CEO.

United American Bank is a locally owned and operated community bank which opened its doors in June 2003 at 101 S. Ellsworth Ave., San Mateo.
